Dedication To Mr. James Corkland

Sometimes it's hard for people to put into words their appreciation toward another individual. This year it is our pleasure to dedicate the 1978 yearbook to Mr. James Corkland. Mr. Corkland has dedicated 26 years of his life to Hadley Lu-zerne; not only as an outstanding English teacher but as an active member of school activities and to us a special friend a man who lends a guiding hand to all and who sincerely cares. Thank you, Mr. Corkland.

The tools of learning are different to each of us in turn. It may be a textbook, an instrument, or a teacher's guiding hand. But we all need our tools to reach our ultimate goal; our highest success.

These tools have helped us to learn and to better our talents. When we look back at them, they remind us of the past. The tools of learning are more than just tools to us; they are memories.

STUDENT LIFE

Our day to day activities include classes, visits, projects, study hall and general learning. Because of dedicated teachers and concerned staff we are able to really learn the basic needs for life and also able to step out with special activities as shown on the pages ahead.

Fall Action

We were proud of Kim Neddo being our Lake Luzerne Fall Festival Queen. Despite plenty of wet weather Kim never let her spirit get dampened as she presided over all activities for two weekends.

Mr. Roach's Industrial Arts classes constructed a leanto that could be split into sections and then the seniors later auctioned it off.

Freaky Friday was sponsored by the Honor Society and representatives from each high school class competed for the title of Mr and Mrs Ghoul. Votes cost the voter a donation to the Leukemia drive.

Steve Randall & Gert Bouchard

Beginning in the Fall and continuing all year, twice every five weeks HLCS had a five minute newsprogram on WRGB in Schenectady.

Student Spectrum was a student look at happenings in the district.

The first program of the series this year featured Kim Neddo, Bill Smith, Carol Harris and Karen Reynolds.

Simone Lorraine

Madeline Russo & Gigi Gereau

Blue and White Day was a day to raise Spirit at H-L and along with it many eyebrows as students "dressed up" for the occasion.

One of the Fall attractions was a Mexican red legged tarantula brought in by Bruce Werley and kept in the Biology room during the year.

"Lurk" is a burrowing spider that runs down its prey. It does not built a web.

It eats grasshoppers and crickets and drinks water from a sponge.

Dan Mosher & Mary Schuh were just two of many who received various scholastic awards. Often in the Fall many gathered around the coke machine.

Everybody Loves Opal was the title of the Broadway show which was presented as the Fall school dramatic production. It was fun for all with a message of true caring in the end.

Winter Activity

included another successful Bloodmobile sponsored by Student Council.

A total of 109 pints were donated. More than 50 students aided doing numerous duties.

Medical History R. V. 1

More than 1700 canned goods were collected to be distributed by the Lions Club to needy families.

The can drive involving competition among all classes saw the seniors winning with the longest line of cans from the Science room to the Guidance office. Left, Ms Stoffolano "Queen Can" for the event inspects the line.

In early February Amy Rowell representing HLCS was one of a small number of girls across the entire state selected to participate in the New York State Junior Miss finals.

Amy was one of 11 chosen from 165 "at large" candidates and only 1 of 3 in the state selected outside of the New York metropolitan area.

In Syracuse she presented poetry she created while accompanying herself via piano.

Throughout the Winter and Spring, students from the Middle School and High School continued to create new programs which were presented on WRGB's Student Spectrum. H-L was the only district which had two programs in each 5 week session and the only district to have a Middle School represented.

Several groups brought in assembly programs much to the delight of children of all ages. In our second photo to the right we see part of one of the two operettas that were presented by a group from the Albany area. Commenting on the behavior of many students seeing and hearing opera type music for the first time, the performers spoke highly of our students.

Mrs. Jane Hall and Mrs. Marion Hanlon of the Lions Club Auxiliary saw their dream come true as the high school band received new uniforms this year. Gary Gazaille and Karen Reynolds model the uniforms as band director Mr. Robert Davis looks on.

The Student Council under the leadership of president Gert Bouchard continued to find new and interesting projects for students to pursue.

Band!

It's been said Music is the voice of the angels. As seen on this page we have plenty of the heavenly cherubs then ... participating in high school chorus, right; doing their own original 7th grade musical shows (below) and participating in the art of ballet, (below)

Ms. Darla Jones and Ms. Betty Lambeth were primarily responsible for the activities which not only are crowd pleasers but excellent areas to develop self discipline and exploration of skills.

A highlight of the Spring of 1977 just as it has been a highlight for Spring times at H-L, the past few years is the annual musical. It was

There is so much more we would like to show and tell about our school year. Student life is very extensive. Some of our story will be told in the 8 page supplement which will be distributed in September 1978. But there simply are not enough pages to give every worthwhile class and activity coverage; indeed not enough to even list them. Hadley Luzerne we have found is a most exciting innovative district. We are proud to be a part of it. Although we may have run out of room for photos we know that you as well as the staff will always have memorable times to recall and fondly enjoy as we relive the days at H-L as active student life.

We also wish Mrs. Hehr well as she leaves the hallowed halls after several enjoyable years with us in Spanish & German.

All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy ... or so goes the old saying. The seniors are not "dull!"

In fact for up to date contemporary outlooks on life .. school ... work and play, this year's senior class is with it!

Pulling together as a class, the class of '78 has enjoyed one another's company in and out of the classroom.

Memories of classes, lunches, senior privileges, the senior trip, dramatic productions, musical events and so much more that has been part of H-L this year will remain with each classmate for a long time.

- I, Harry Ziegler, leave my alertness in Social Studies class to anybody that needs some rest.
- I, Lori Zwirz, leave all my happiest memories of horsecare to my nephew, Christian Page.

Yearbook Staff

This book is the direct result of the Class of 1978 getting out and selling patron ads and business advertisements. They also sold books in classrooms. Better than 5 of the class did the above work. It was a very dedicated handful of seniors who put their creative talents together for the nuts and bolts layout of this book. Spending many hours after school between September and February and even hours at home in some cases, the "labor of love" was typed, retyped, photos taken, mis-taken, cropped, identified, names spelled and misspelled .. and from it all ... this year of memories.

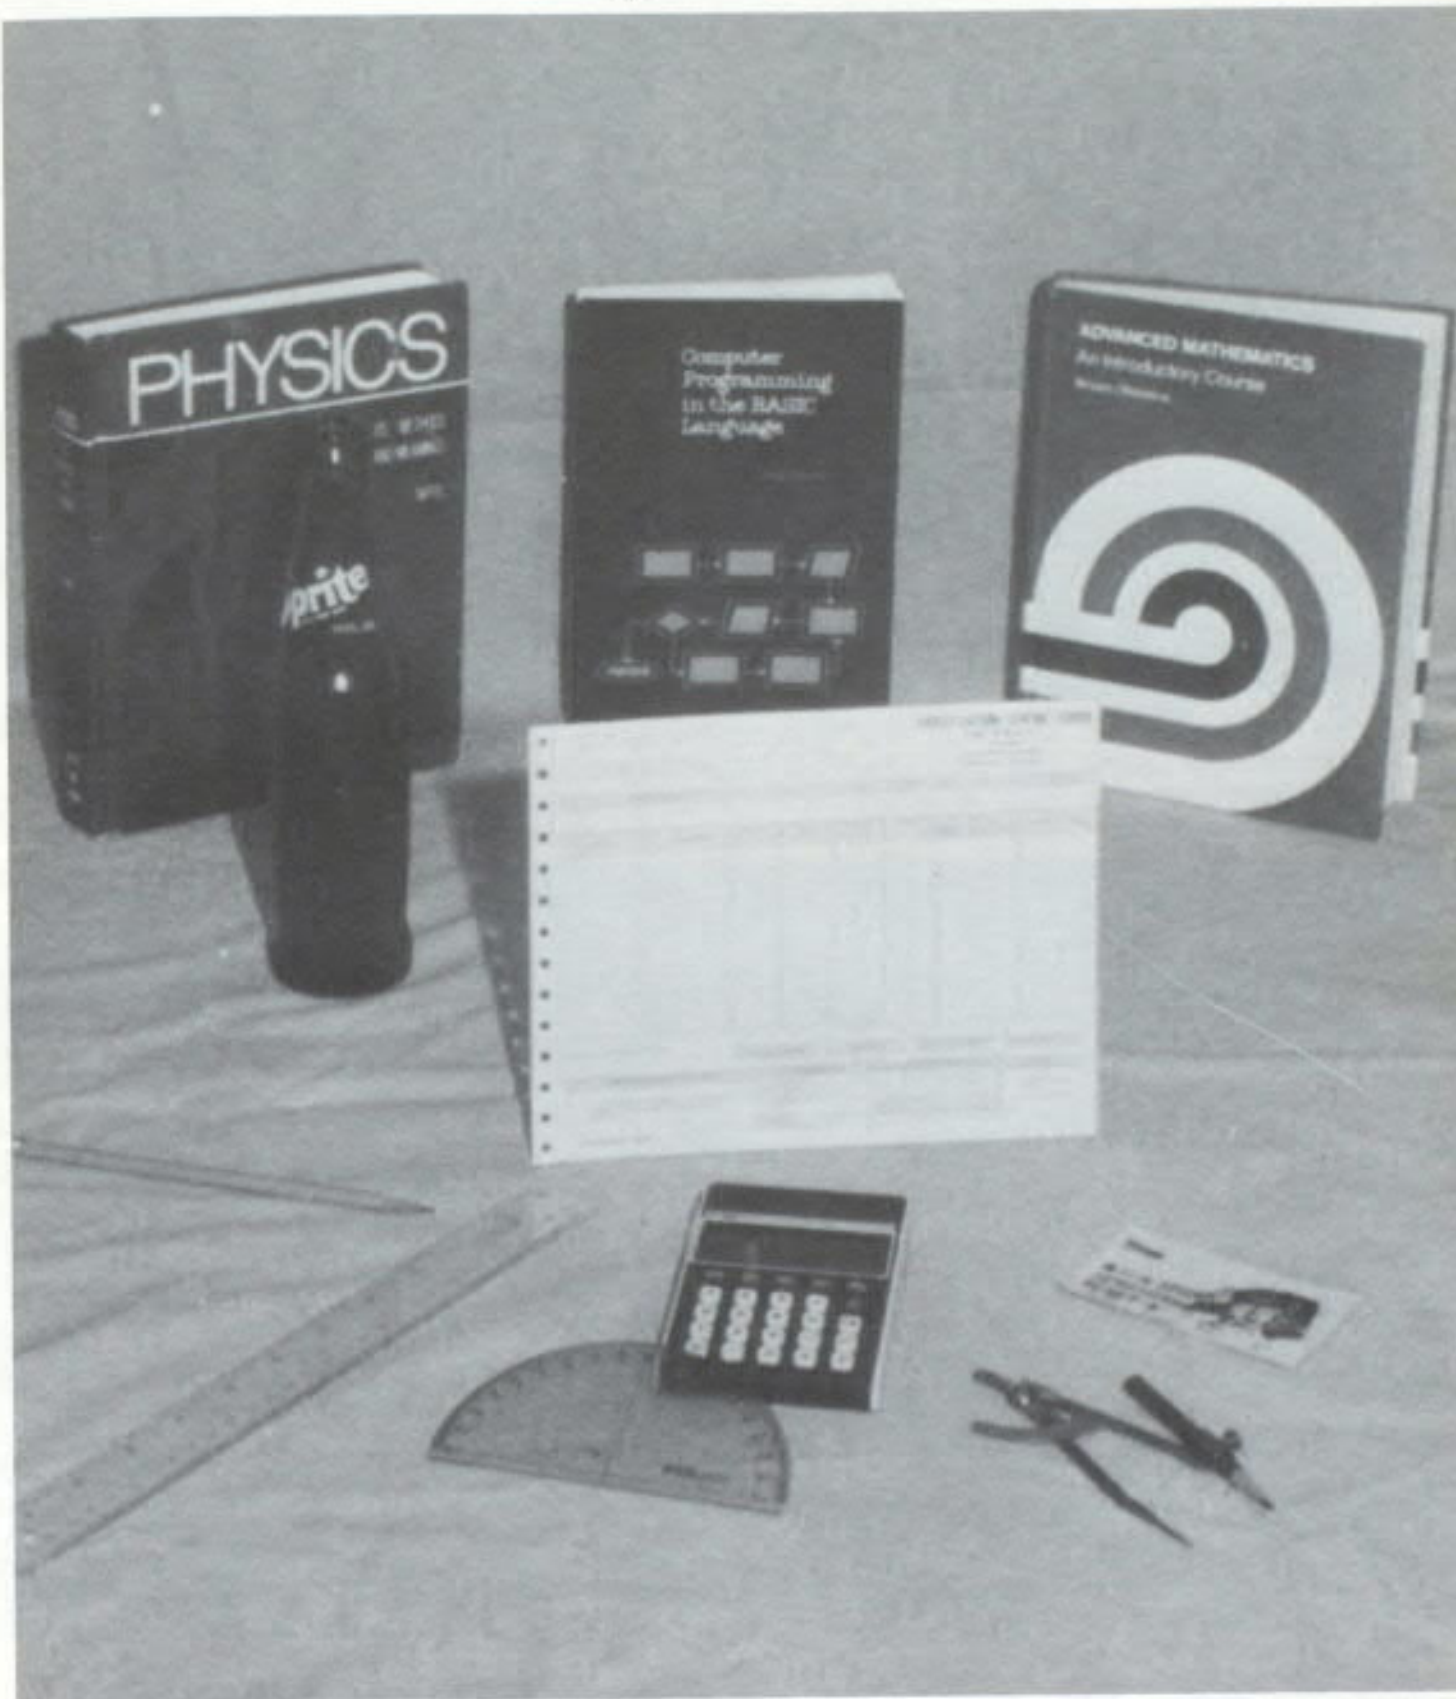

Mr. Donald Racette gave much of his time, advice and guiding hand as Yearbook Advisor.

There are many volunteers who give much of their time and effort ... as aides in the elementary, assisting in the middle school and often tutoring in the high school or coming in to share business experiences. Although we have not been able to catch all these volunteers we want to give public thanks. Without their "input" our school district would not have the closeness between student and community that it does have.

There also have been faculty not available at the time photos were taken. Although not seen on these pages, they are remembered and appreciated.

We also felt it would be appropriate to publish the HONOR SOCIETY members at this point of the book. We know if it were not for the dedication of our faculty through closely planned lessons, extra time spent after school encouraging and coaching, those students seen below would not have the honor of being a member of the organization.

Girls Softball

turned out to be a winning season with a Adirondack League record of 5-2 including an 8 hit shutout pitched by Kim Neddo; the first shutout in our school's history for the girls.

The first two games were losses to Argyle 22-11 and Lake George 8-2. Then a hot streak of wins came for H-L 18-11 against North Warren; 22-6 over Johnsbury; 21-4 over Hartford; 29-0 against Warrensburg and 25-4 over Fort Ann.

Being 7-7 in league play and 9-9 overall, our Eagles showed talent and determination on the ballfield. Speaking proudly of "his boys", Coach Kay noted four of the league losses were only by one run each. "It's a young team" Coach Kay said and we all look forward to next year. Six of the starters were sophomores.

Music was provided by Mes Amies

Bye Bye Birdie!

Called by many the greatest musical to date, Bye Bye Birdie cast and crew provided a musical delight to, packed houses both nights of the Spring Musical.

A spoof about a rock and roll singer who is drafted into the Army, the show provided many laughs and toe tapping music.

Bill Thorpe played the rock star, Conrad Birdie; Craig Williams was his manager, Albert; and Karen Reynolds the faithful secretary, Rose. Gigi Gereau was Kim, the girl chosen to receive "one last kiss" before the induction day. Debbie Sehlmeier was the overprotective mother of Al, and one more of a great cast of 37.

ELEMENTARY HAPPENINGS

For some the music enjoyment is up with the hands and toes in ballet; for others it's the Freddie with hands up and out during Physical Education night activities

Danny Williams, Marguerite Testa & Maureen O'Connor try a square dance while a gymful of others join Miss Gericke in a more modern mode of music.

The landscape in front of the school took a change as down came trees.

During the Spring Concert, the Elementary Band made its first appearance.

Middle School

activities in the Spring were highlighted by the beautiful four panel mural painting which now graces the cafeteria.

Mike Bellanger and Carol Duncan made the creation as part of an independent study art project.

The scenes showing the four seasons very well could be of the Hadley-Luzerne general area.

Above, students learn to play the recorder and they participated with a special number in the Spring Concert which featured several other Middle School groups also.
